Creative director who builds a brand system and then carries it through every surface: app, website, campaign, and physical experience. Directed the visual identity for a wellness app and its marketing site, designed ten original characters and a full identity system for a children's entertainment brand, and led branding, packaging, and campaign work for an international CBD company.

CORE COMPETENCIES

Brand strategy & visual identity systems · Typography systems · Original character/IP design · Campaign & multimedia production (300+ assets) · Art direction · Cross-channel brand consistency · Content-governance systems (claims, compliance-sensitive copy)

SELECTED WORK

Peace Life · App + Marketing Site (2021–Present)

Directed the "luminous premium healing" visual system across app and web: a chakra-accented palette, a Cormorant Garamond + Manrope typography system, and the App Store launch asset set. Produced and directed 300+ multimedia assets (graphics, video, and campaigns) for marketing, education, and retreat content.

Once Upon a Princess · Brand Identity (2026)

Created ten original princess characters and a complete visual system (an arch motif, an "invitation" gold-hairline device, and a crown mark used across the logo, favicon, and closing CTA), designed from the ground up to avoid any resemblance to protected characters.

Nectar CBD · Brand & Packaging (2019–2021)

Directed branding, packaging, and product design for a company that became the first to sell CBD into Japan; directed the digital marketing campaigns supporting international distribution.

Organización Qinty · Bilingual Brand & Content System (2026)

Directed a content-verification governance system (verified/source/proposed tiers) so ceremonial, cultural, medical, and legal content is never machine-translated or shipped unconfirmed: brand integrity applied to sensitive, cross-cultural material.
